

Announcement

A general strike has been announced for Thursday 11 March 2010 in Greece.

The strike will not affect the organization of the conference, besides the air traveling of participants planned to travel this exact day. If you have planned to travel on Thursday, you are strongly recommended to change your travel schedule as soon as possible.

Care has been taken for the transportation of the participants from their hotel to the conference venue that day. Detailed information will be provided during the conference.

Conference secretariat and GAEC staff will be at your disposition for any information or assistance required.

Please visit frequently the conference web-page (<http://www.gaec.gr/im2010>) for further information.

IM2010 Organizing Committee